

Introducing MuseWorx

“Many business challenges, one flexible solution”

Problem – Today working together in business is different. Business teams are often spread across the globe. The decisions we make require real-time input from team members, clients and vendors. Unfortunately, our current ways of sharing information are inadequate or overly complex. Email makes it hard to keep track of all those versions and files sizes are difficult. Making it even more complex, we have to make sure we meet timelines and stay on budget.

Traditional solutions - Traditional systems like Microsoft SharePoint are too complicated for even the simplest task. Add in Microsoft Project to manage tasks and you have a full-time job just managing the process. Wouldn't it be great if there were one easy to use system to enable your teams to collaborate together from anywhere? Wouldn't it be great if this system worked the way you do, managing all your communication, files and projects from one place?

MuseWorx solution – Introducing MuseWorx – Powerful online collaboration, file management and project management all in one easy to use solution. MuseWorx does what traditional solutions do in seconds...with no special training, expertise or IT solutions required.

Enable your teams to produce better work and make better decisions. Get all the current versions of your documents to your team no matter where they are. Securely share, view, add comments, manage versions and annotate your files in real-time, from anywhere and on any device. Manage your team deadlines with integrated project management. Unify your team communications and even integrate with your current email and SMS systems to keep everyone informed and in the loop.

MuseWorx is truly one business solution for many business challenges.
